

Gals & Guys Hee Haw Get'Away – October 2016

G&Gs arrived on Thursday and received a gift bag that had 2 bags of peanuts, 2 cans of Coke, 2 Moon Pies. They also received their hand painted cloths pin name tags. A yard sign was provide by the hosts and couples painted the name and population of their home town. SAA-LUTE!!!

The host and hostess Rick and Debbie Camp, provide beef stew and cornbread for the hungry travelers. . Dinner was followed by a two games of LCR. Winners were Dee Bennett and Larry Holland (Donna's hubby).

Friday started with couples exploring the area of Bandera or just kicking back and relaxing at their campsite. That evening was Hee Haw party night. A country potluck dinner was on the menu, featuring Minnie Pearls fried chicken, yummy country sides and Carl Silvey's (Kathy's hubby) dutch oven biscuits. Those biscuits would give your grandmother a run for her money. The night was filled with photo opts in the Hee Haw cornfield, at The Naggers, in the HeeHaw Honey gossip corner and more.

Saturday morning Sandra and Don Boswell made breakfast for Lee Covey, Barb Wellnetz's favorite cowboy. Yummy sausage gravy and biscuits! In true Gals and Guys spirit the Boswell's invited all G & G to breakfast! Another day of exploration and rest was in order. Everyone got together at the OST Restaurant (a Bandera staple) for an early dinner. Then back to the campground for an evening filled with G &Gs dancing the night away. Dave Kemp and his band performed, a returning Gals & Guys favorite.

Sunday morning brought hugs and goodbyes to new and old friends.

Happy Camping,
Debbie Camp

GLADEWATER, TEXAS
OCTOBER 6-9, 2016

Some ladies gathered early at this campout for potluck dinner and karaoke on Wednesday night, but most everyone else arrived at the Antique Capital RV Park Thursday. GG's picked up their nametags and goodie bags at the clubhouse where Lola May and Marilyn Johnston offered a gracious welcome. Our name tags were assorted handcrafted fabric flowers with faux jewels in the centers, and we put our names on paper ribbons which were then attached to the flowers.

In the evening we gathered under the pavilion for sandwiches, chips, dips, and salads, but the heat and bugs soon ran us into the clubhouse! Everyone enjoyed reuniting with each other and trying their hand at guessing the number of candies in a huge jar, tossing rings onto a flamingo's neck, and trying to score points throwing ping pong balls at a board of bra cups!

There was also a little sheet of paper in our goodie bags that had us finding out things about our fellow campers called "Name the GG." We had to find a GG that fulfilled each clue, such as "first campout," or "wearing blue shoes."

Friday morning Lola and Marilyn treated the GG's to a hot breakfast of pancakes, sausage, and bacon in the clubhouse, along with lots of hot coffee. Many of us hung out in our pajamas for a leisurely morning before heading out for shopping in Gladewater.

At 5 p.m. we enjoyed baked potatoes with all the fixings, provided by our hostesses. Then those who bought tickets headed downtown to the Gladewater Opry House to see the doo-wop group Shake, Rattle, and Roll. The four-lady group entertained a full house with songs from the fifties, sixties, and even the forties with humor and loads of talent. At one point they shocked the GG's by calling April Coker, Shelley Wetherbee, and Lonna Leach to the stage to "help" them perform Elvis Presley's "All Shook Up". After the show, we returned to the clubhouse for coffee punch and cupcakes, and we welcomed three of the ladies of Shake, Rattle, and Roll and two of their husbands as well! They visited with us and then toured several of our vintage trailers. It was a night of fun we won't soon forget!

Saturday morning we were treated again to sausage and biscuits and gravy! We were so spoiled at this campout! This was a day to just hang out or go shopping. Then at 6 p.m. it was Salsa Time! We enjoyed tacos with all the fixings, as well as other Mexican dishes and various desserts. Three judges from the community joined us to judge the homemade salsa some GG's brought. We enjoyed music by a deejay and many of us danced the night away. Prizes were also awarded. Best Homemade Salsa: Susan Stinnett with special recognition to Gina Biekman; Best Candy in the Jar Guess: Susan Stinnett; Flamingo Toss: Shari Bentley; Bra Pong: Sally McDonnell; Winner of the "Name the GG" Activity: Pam Coates.

Sunday morning arrived all too soon, but many of us enjoyed coffee and cookies before saying our goodbyes. A huge thank you goes to Lola May and Marilyn Johnston for this wonderful campout which allowed us to reunite with old friends, make new friends, and get away from our busy lives for a little while.

See you down the road! April Coker
